How to Gain in Weight.
A gentleman, rather remarkable for his obesity, was asked where he obtained his meals, as the bill of fare must be exceedingly good, since he appeared to be growing larger and heavier day by day. The prompt reply was "At the Continental Saloon, next door to the Postoffice, on Fifth street, which is kept by that prince of epicures—Holtzheimer." The answer was pertinent to the point, for at the Continental the best meals to be obtained in the city are daily served up at the most reasonable of prices. Game—the rarest, steaks, fish, and everything to tempt the palate, are served up in a better than usual style. Professor Blot indeiate, and if you can one meal gotten up by Holtzheimer, at a few minutes' notice, you will forever bestow your patronage on this place alone.

LATE CONDENSED NEWS.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

A party of five white men and sixteen negroes were arraigned in Louisville yesterday for engaging in a free fight on Sunday. From the testimony of several negroes the row was caused by three men entering a beer saloon and driving away some negroes that were in it. Only four of the party were punished. Two of the four for carrying weapons, and the others for resisting the police.

The Growth of Cincinnati.
It is gratifying to know that while other large cities in the West make a great deal of noise about their growth and metropolitan importance, Cincinnati invariably takes the front place when it comes to substantial tests. And when we say Cincinnati, we mean the eighteen wards that are its artificial and not its real boundaries. At the recent city elections, Cincinnati cast 33,000 votes. Chicago 19,000, and St. Louis 14,000. The contest in Chicago was unusually close, the vote relatively, the fullest. Chicago has been claiming a population of over 200,000 with such staggering assurance that many shrewd people have thought there must be something in it. The fact is that Chicago has about 150,000 inhabitants. It has attained half the size of Cincinnati if we count our immediate suburbs —suburbs which are no further from our business center than the outside wards of Chicago from its business center. There is Covington, with its 22,000, Newport, with half as many more, and a girdle of little towns, such as Cumminsville, Clifton, Avondale, Columbia, Dayton, Ky., Ludlow, Sedamsville, etc., all of which are but two or three miles from the heart of Cincinnati, and which are not included in our census, nor represented in our vote. Yet without them we maintain the rank of Queen City, and thereby nettle our ambitious rivals to a marvelous extent. Chicago particularly is pierced, but still clings to its rosy estimates. The last one we saw was 200,000.—Cincinnati Commercial.

Triumph of the Prussian Opposition Over Count Bismarck—Objective to Federal Taxation—Arming to German Citizens of the United States—Government to Cede Canada to Prussia—Another Fenian Rising in Ireland.

The London correspondent of the Herald's Berlin correspondence says: "The members of the German opposition party in the Legislature have triumphed over Count Bismarck, by the vote omitting from the indirect taxes amenable to the representative body on all matters relative to federal taxation.

The vote was taken close, the liberals carrying their amendment to the tax levy clause in the draft of the Constitution, by a majority of but eight. This result has begues badly for the fate of the new normal military budget of Prussia.

Rumors of War Preparations—State of Feeling in France.

[Per Steamer Bremen.]

NEW YORK, April 22.—The Paris correspondent of the London Times gives a rumor that Marshal McMahon had been sent for.

The French Government sent an energetic note to Prussia on the Luxemburg question, and certain officers of the staff had been sent on a mission to the Rhine. The people believe France is drifting into a war. There is no part of the magination of business, and the spirit of commercial and industrial enterprise is especially paralyzed.

The Etendard says the rumor that Luxemburg must be evacuated by Prussia, or after a brief delay will be war. The most extraordinary preparations are made to supply the French army with breech loaders, one hundred and fifty thousand of which are ready. The rumor that Count Lyons is ordered to hold itself in readiness. Notwithstanding the assurances concerning the comparative neight of the mountains in the West, and claim Mount Whitney, in California, as the highest in the country, with an altitude of 15,000 feet. They cut down Mount Hood to 12,000 feet and Mount Saint Elias to 14,000.

—The Iowa City Republican says that the total number of deaths in that city in that city the past season is about $1,100; also, that the amount paid the lecturers, and the expenses attending them, were not much short of $1,400, making near $2,500 paid by the people of Iowa City and vicinity for eight lectures.

—After the Revolution had ended, in 1783, our country covered 820,680 square miles. In 1820, by various acquisitions, this grew to 1,749,462 square miles. This, in 1853, had extended to 3,019,277 square miles and now, by the Russian cession, it is 3,401,505 square miles. —Never teach false morality. How exquisitely absurd to tell girls that beauty is of no value; dress no matter; that a well educated man will be governed by principle in life may often depend on a new gown or a becoming bonnet, and if she wishes for the genuine article she will find this out. The great thing is to teach her their just value, and that there must be something better under the sun than mere beauty for, for real happiness. But never sacrifice truth.

It is thus estimated that the deficiency on this trip will amount to from $30,000 to $150,000.

Fifty Days Without Food.

That venerable gentleman in Dayton, known as Uncle Brown, and who has now been engaged for fifty days in starving himself to death, still survives and converses with his friends quite cheerfully, so says the Dayton Empire, which adds that his pulse is as strong as ever. The Empire wonders that this interested party has not been to an investigation by scientific persons. Science, however, is not disposed to make their fortunes with the Republican party. He advised the distranchised class that by speaking and working for the National policy, they would show their countrymen that the disabilities now imposed upon them ought to be removed, and a country that had proved its generosity would not forget it.

VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.

Providing for Interest of State Debt—Sale of State Railroad Interest—Senator Wilson Speaks at Richmond.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, VA., April 22.—The Legislature has passed a law levying a tax of thirty cents on one hundred dollars to pay the four per cent. annual interest on the public debt, as authorized. Certificates will be issued for the deferred two per cent.

The law consolidating the four leading railroads connecting the waters of the Ohio and Mississippi with the Atlantic at Norfolk, provides that the interest the State owns in the roads to be consolidated, amounting to over four millions of dollars, to be sold, and payment made on or before the first of May, 1868, in bonds of the State, at par.

There are also pending before the Legislature similar bills for sales of the entire interest the State owns in various railroads, amounting in all to twenty-one millions seven hundred thousand dollars.

Senator Wilson addressed a crowd of about six thousand persons from the capital steps this afternoon. Nearly all those present were colored, though all classes of whites were represented. He gave a history of Reconstruction, and argued that the President's policy caused more unhappiness than the work of any one man in America, and urged the election of men to State offices and Congress who favor the honest acceptance of the policy of the nation. He had no fear of the colored vote of Virginia being controlled by secessionists, and appealed to the old whigs to unite their fortunes with the Republican party. He advised the disfranchised class that by speaking and working for the National policy, they would show their countrymen that the disabilities now imposed upon them ought to be removed, and a country that had proved its generosity would not forget it.

SENATOR INVITED TO SOUTH CAROLINA.

A delegation arrived from Columbia, S. C., to invite the President to visit that city.

In the case of the steamer William Bagley and cargo, the decree of the District Court of the United States for Eastern Louisiana was affirmed.

In the case of James R. Bontley, claimant of the steamer Sea vs. Hugh Coynel, owner of the schooner Whitecloud, the decrees of the Circuit of the United States for the Eastern of Michigan were affirmed with costs.

James Francis vs. United States, Judgment of the Circuit Court of the United States for Missouri. Affirmed.

Illinois Central Railroad vs. William Barrows. Judgment of the Circuit Court for Northern Illinois, affirmed with costs.

Horace Levare vs. John A. Bigelow. Appeal from the Circuit Court of Northern Illinois. Dismissed for want of jurisdiction.

Richard Field vs. John H., and H. W. Bigelow. Appeal from the Circuit Court for Northern Wisconsin. Dismissed for want of jurisdiction.

John Meyer vs. William Fean. Appeal from the Circuit Court of Northern Illinois. Affirmed with costs as to Henry C. Bowen, Thomas B. Reed, William B. Hawley, and Richard A. Talbot; dismissed, the appeal of James Myers, William Kinsley, Charles Stout, Wilmington Clapp, William Kent, and Samuel H. Berkley, for want of jurisdiction.

The town of Mineral Point vs. James Lee. Judgment of Circuit Court of the District of Wisconsin affirmed with costs.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST CHOLERA.

The Surgeon General has issued a circular of instructions, that in view of the possible prevalence of cholera during the approaching summer, every endeavor will be made by medical officers to prevent the introduction of cholera from infected commands or its conveyance from point to point, by a quarantine of observation on all detachments of recruits or troops arriving or departing from post or recruiting stations, at or near which the disease prevails. Regulations looking to the preservation of health in the army are given.

Lowe is detached from ordnance duty at Boston, and ordered to duty as Inspector of Ordnance at Pittsburgh, Pa.

RAILROAD MAIL SERVICE.

The Acting Quartermaster General has ordered the withdrawing of all payment for mail transportation to railroads which are indebted to the United States for materials purchased on credit, until said indebtedness is extinguished.

STEAMBOAT DECISION REVERSED.

The Supreme Court to-day reversed the decision of the Supreme Court of Iowa in an admiralty case, on the ground that the laws of Congress of 1789 and 1845 gave the United States District Court exclusive jurisdiction, without limitation, both on rivers and lakes, or wherever ships and steamboats float and are engaged in commerce. The Court below had acted upon a steamboat collision case.

INTERNAL REVENUE RECEIPTS.

The receipts of Internal Revenue to-day amount to $594,125.

Pursuit of the Chilian Privateer—The Question of Peace or War Between Chile and Peru Unsettled—New Guano Island Discovered.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 22.—Panama dates to the 13th to the Star and Herald say that the Chilian war steamer Valparaiso, cruising near Santa Martha, in quest of the Peruvian privateer Rayner, formerly the United States steamer Wyoming, has put in to send delegates to the meeting of the 1st and 21 proximo.

The report of the arrest of members of Congress by Mosquera is unfounded.

The best feeling of harmony and agreement were working together harmoniously.

Advices from Chili state the question of peace or war still remains unsettled, but there was no chance of a truce or mediation of the United States. It was thought the Spaniards would not make another warlike demonstration.

The fortifications at Valparaiso are still worked on with great assiduity and receive the constant attention of the American engineer. They make no progress in ships of war, however. The vessels purchased by the United States fall into decay visibly every day.

A new guano island, eight hundred miles from the coast, has been discovered.

Minister Thomas Pere is unimportant.

The Mercurio of Lima says: Admiral Tucker, of the Peruvian navy, declined the command of the new steamer Meteor was handed over by the Captain to the Government of Peru, at Callao, and now commands the squadron of Captain Jones, of the Peruvian navy.

FROM MEXICO.

The Capture of Puebla—Retaliation—Shooting Imperialists—Sixty-One Galvezites Shot by Gen. Diaz.

GALVESTON, April 21.—The United States steamer Tahoma, arrived from Tampico, brings dispatches announcing the capture of Puebla.

It is represented that Ortega, who is in command of the Imperialists, is out of Campico, and for whose they would be pronounced, has not the remotest chance of success.

Gen. Diaz has issued a decree that any guerilleros say that General Diaz shot six general officers and sixty-one of lower grade, who were taken prisoners, and ordered in retaliation for the October decree.

Arrival of Treasure—Steamship Disabled.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The steamship New York, from Aspinwall, with one million one hundred and seventeen thousand nine hundred and seventy-two dollars in specie, has arrived. She reports the steamship America, from San Francisco for San Juan Del Sur, with 400 passengers, put into the port of Acapulco, March 26th, short of coal and with a shaft broken. As she could not obtain coal, it was thought best to abandon the voyage and proceed to sea, contrary to the advice of the American Consul, running privately for Manzilla, where he hoped to obtain coal.

Steamboat Disaster.

MEMPHIS, April 22.—The steamer Robert E. Lee sprung a gale this morning, broke from her moorings at the wharf, floating down and driving against the steamer Hannibal, which was also struck amidships, causing her to sink in a few minutes. She then struck Parmstead's wharf boat, which also broke loose, and both drifted down to Fort Pickering, where the Hannibal's cabin floated back on her. She received but little damage.

EUROPEAN COMPLICATIONS.

It seems to be reduced to a certainty that whatever other fate may befall Luxembourg she will not be annexed to France. Prussia is worse horrified, and has acted with so much promptness and rigor in the premises, it appears quite improbable France will incur the hazards of pressing the point of annexation. The proposition to make the Duchy neutral territority, is a half measure, designed to cover a retreat on the part of NAPOLEON, and at the same time to appease the honor of the French nation, which is wounded most deeply, and chafes for vindication by an overt demonstration perilous of attempt at this conjuncture.

Prussia alone is now sufficiently powerful to cope with France; but signs are not wanting that Austria, Italy and Russia are her allies, and will make common cause with her, for mutual advantage, if a rupture shall occur. Each of these nations has distinct and important ends to gain by co-operation, some of which have been for a long time reluctantly deferred, in obedience to intimations from Paris. So favorable a combination of circumstances as that now presented may not be offered for a century.

Italy wants Rome. The principle of the solidarity of nations announced by France when she first interposed in behalf of VICTOR EMANUEL against Austria, would have given him the Papal States at that time if it had been carried out. Perhaps as much was intended; but after the day of Solferino NAPOLEON, under the influence of prudential motives, concluded a hasty peace, leaving the consolidation of Italy incomplete. The acquisition of Venitia last summer, left only one more step to be taken in order to finish the work. While that is delayed the Italians feel a perpetual unrest; a craving only to be satisfied by accomplishment; a tradition baffled; and a destiny postponed. Rome is essential to Italy, and she will reach out her hand and take it whenever she can do so safely.

Russia wants European Turkey, and particularly Constantinople. She has waited and watched and longed. Once her armies crossed the Balkan, looked upon the city from afar, and then retraced their steps, through fear of France and England. Her opportunity seems to be coming near, and if the auguries shall be fulfilled, she will grasp the prize, never to relax her hold. Why should she not? Not only her political and ecclesiastical traditions impel her, but the necessities of empire urge her on. She has need of a sea-port in Europe not ice locked the larger part of the year. True, after this acquisition she would have Gibralter to pass before reaching the ocean, but the Strait is fifteen miles wide, and the British navy is neither absolutely nor relatively as powerful as it was. European Turkey once in the possession of Russia, a surprising resurrection would happen to it. The old glory that for ages crowned those provinces would return again, and Civilization would be a gainer.

Austria has suffered large curtailment of territory and population, and reasonably anticipates in the progress of events still farther diminutions. If Germany shall be consolidated under the leadership of Prussia, as events appear to indicate, FRANCIS JOSEPH may be compelled to part with the Grand Duchy of Austria, and his empire become purely Slavonic. Liable to such contingencies, he naturally seeks compensations, where alone he can find them, in the direction of the Danube. The possession of those Principalities would render Austria, not be as formidable, indeed, as she has been, but, nevertheless, a power of the second grade.

Prussia has gained largely, but her stupendous projects are yet far from accomplishment. When she invaded Holstein and Schleswig, she proclaimed the idea that all territories inhabited by Germanic tribes should be brought under one government. Austria did not deny the principle, but disputed the pre eminence of Prussia. The strife between them was for the leadership under the principle; and Austria was unsuccessful. From that day to this Prussia has steadily and grandly risen, till her leadership is manifestly assured.

But the idea of which she stands before Europe as the champion, will compel her to make reclamations of still other governments. Followed legitimately, it will constrain her to demand and take Alsace and Lorraine from France, to absorb Holland and Belgium, and some cantons of Switzerland. These are projects not likely to be attempted until a continental war shall happen, and then the issue will be left to the chapter of accidents, which always controls campaigns to a greater or less extent.

That France understands the situation is apparent; that she is dissatisfied with it, cannot be concealed. The tide is against her. While she was planning hopelessly in Mexico, the current of events in Europe eluded her grasp and passed beyond her control. From being the arbiter of destiny she decends to stand on the defensive, with a fair prospect of having in that role all she can attend to.

GOVERNMENTAL PATRONAGE.

We do not admire the system upon which governmental patronage has been distributed in this country for the last thirty years. Rather than have offices given in reward of fidelity and usefulness to the party that chances to hold the administration, we should greatly prefer to see all minor public employment filled by competitive examinations, and vacancies created only by death, resignation or disability. We are not without hope that we may live long enough to see this change instituted. One of the chief evils of the existing system is the scramble created at short intervals for public offices, in which impudence, in nine cases out of ten, attains success rather than merit or competency.

By the system as pursued—to some extent, also, by the very nature of popular government—the offices are reputed to belong to the party succeeding in making the administration. No one will pretend that in this perview the offices belong to the President, and that he can honorably dispose of them as he will. The President necessarily owes his position directly to the dominant party. In accepting its nomination he contracts an obligation, more the less imperative because tacit and implied, that he will use the patronage entrusted to him for its advantage. He has unquestionably the same power to change his party relations after election as he had before; but no fair-minded man will pretend that any modification of his opinions or purposes absolves him from the obligations he assumed when he accepted the tendered nomination.

These considerations form the basis of the controversy respecting the patronage between the President and Congress. Mr. JOHNSON was nominated because of the position he occupied at the time the National Convention was held, and the sentiments he had steadily avowed from the commencement of the war up to that time. If he had stood then where he stands now, he would not have been named. At the following election, it was the party that triumphed; not Mr. JOHNSON. The control of the patronage belonged rather to the party than to the individual. This he felt himself, as was abundantly evidenced by the excuses he set up for the removals that followed his repudiation of the party by which he was chosen. He began by declaring that he designed rewarding men who had served faithfully in the army. This was a fraud and a sham. Soon he commenced appointing such republican civilians as consented to follow him in his betrayal. At last, he laid aside all disguises and showered promotions on the most violent copperheads. He no longer concealed his purpose to use the patronage placed in his hands by the republican party for its overthrow. It stands to reason such treachery is not relished by its intended victims. Congress has taken measures to restrict the authority of the President in this matter, or rather to bring him strictly within the constitutional requirement. So far not much good has resulted; for office brokerage is now more shameless at the capital than ever before, and Senators and Representatives have the credit of making dickers in respect to appointment, which detract much from their respectability. Meanwhile the President appears to have worn out the patience of the Senate, and to be in a fair way not to come out second-best.

NEW YORK CENTRAL RAILROAD.

The line of railroad known by this title was constructed in various parcels by as many different companies. When it was consolidated in one corporation the stock was largely watered. One company, existing only on paper, but authorized to build a second line between Albany and Utica, was merged on the same terms as if its road had been actually constructed and in operation; that is, the subscribers to its stock, though they had paid no more than the cost of preliminary surveys, received full amounts of the consolidated stock, as though they had really invested the amounts of their respective subscriptions. In authorizing the consolidation the Legislature stipulated, and the Company agreed, that passenger fare per mile should not exceed two cents. Up to this agreement the Company has lived; though since the deluge of paper money it has repeatedly asked permission to advance the rate to three cents a mile. At the current session of the Legislature leave was asked to go up to three cents a mile, and a bill was passed by both Houses permitting the exaction of two and a half cents, but Governor FENTON refused his assent, and the bill failed.

The ground on which this increase is urged is, that ratably to expenses, two and a half or three cents a mile is no more than two cents was when the limitation was enforced and accepted. Unquestionably this is true; and if this was the only view of the case the argument would seem to be unanswerable. But the question is properly viewed under other aspects. Notwithstanding the watering of the stock, already mentioned, the property of the Company, as now represented, is one of the cheapest in the country. It stood, in $38,765,000 Capital and Debt ten years ago, with a traffic capacity of only $8,000,000 per annum; it stands in only $38,896,000 at present, with a traffic capacity of $16,000,000. It could not be replaced to-day, in all its extent of roadway, enormous equipment and most extensive and valuable station property for $53,000,000. Adding the sums paid and received from Surplus Income since 1853, it would now stand the proprietary in about $46,000,000. Of this surplus $2,500,000 has gone to the reduction of the Consolidation Premiums, (Certificate Debt,) and about $4,500,000 is held in reserve for the shareholders. The Road earned eight per cent. on the Stock last year, though dividing, from policy only six per cent.; it can be made, under proper management, to earn ten per cent. The situation of the Company, therefore, is not one of peculiar hardship.

But there is still another view. Careful and elaborate investigations and experiments, conducted both in Europe and the United States, render it certain that railroad rates; for freight or passengers, can be greatly cheapened with advantage to the companies. The same rule holds here that is satisfactorily applied in diminishing postage on letters or printed matter. It was difficult to convince conservatives that the Postoffice Department would more certainly prove self-sustaining at low rates than at high ones; but as soon as the test as actual experiment was introduced the problem was solved.

The same rule would doubtless hold good in respect to telegraphing; but the profits, as the business is managed, are so great as abundantly to content stockholders. In some European countries the telegraph is made an adjunct of the postal system, and messages, of prescribed length, are transmitted to any part of a kingdom for ten cents, yielding a handsome profit. Indeed, there seems to be no doubt that if only ten cents a message, of minimum length, were exacted in this country, and the number of communications should not be increased, the Telegraph Companies would still make very handsome dividends on the real cost of the lines.

In England the Government has reserved the right to take possession, at cost, of all railroad lines, and sagacious men urge that the authority ought to be exercised. Such a measure would comport with the nature of that Government, but would be incongruous here. Still it cannot be doubted that ultimately the policy of low railroad charges will become so indubitable as to lead the companies to adopt it as a means of increasing profits.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.

WASHINGTON, April 18, 1867.

The event of the week here was the celebration of Emancipation Day by the colored people of this city and District. The procession, which marched in the midst of the deep mud, and for a part of the time through the rain, was large, extending past ten blocks, and parading under a great variety of banners, every one of which was patriotic. I thought as I saw those thousands of dusky sons of toil, that I had rather be the man who had conferred the happiness there seen in every action and heard in every tone, than the proudest potentate that ever sat upon a throne. And, indeed, Mr. Lincoln sits this day upon a greater and more precious than any earthly seat of power—enthroned in the affections of the good and the first not only of his own countrymen, but of all the world.

The celebration actually extended through two days, owing to the rain storm of the 16th. So, on the evening of the 17th, (the speaking having been postponed on the first day by the lateness of the hour at which the procession closed,) Senator MORTON, of Indiana, addressed the vast multitude. What he said was so admirable that I wish I had it entire to enclose for your columns; but, though I procured a copy for that purpose, I have mislaid it. Senator MORTON has in happy faculty of clearness and condensation. He can come to the level of the least instructed comprehension and yet convey the great principles upon which the party of truth and patriotism have grounded themselves. His manner is sincere, cordial and attractive. He carries his audience as one man with him. The sea of dark faces upon which now, for the first time, the sun of hope begins to shine; upon whom a new and brighter world is opening up as to the children of Israel, when behind them lay the land of Egyptian bondage, and before them the fair fields of their promised home, was illumined, irradiated as the kindly tones and cheering advice and counsel of the Senator fell upon their ears. They applauded him to the echo. It was a right worshipping—these late hordes which devilish avarice has fed upon for centuries of unwept wrong—coming up soberly, recently under their banners of patriotism with their wives and little ones—now all their own—to hear from the worthy and eloquent Senator words of cheer and encouragement and laying them to heart. At once, on the act of full enfranchisement, this late despised and rejected merchandised has risen to a place of commanding influence, and listens to discussions upon the principles of free government, participates in their discussions and will have the control of the election in this District in June next. Among the republicans of this District white and black there is no room. Those whose opinions are of more weight—whether none considers his antecedents or his present high standing as a Senator—than Mr. MORTON's.

The recent discussion in the Senate, on the resolution of Reverdy Johnson for a protectorate in Mexico, was very able and drew forth a speech from Senator MORTON, which attracted great attention and was the means of defeating the measure. The idea of standing by and looking on calmly while Mexico was in the clutch of France, struggling for dear life, did not to Mr. MORTON appear bravely consistent with an earnest desire to interfere for the sake of doing justice, now that MAXIMILIAN has at his back only a few sunburnt Hessians and a squad of malcontents anxious to forget that the property of the Church into their own pockets.

Now that Congress has virtually adjourned, everything settles back into the quiet summer ways, except the chronic office seekers. They look as much of tobacco-chewing secesh or hungry copperhead-ism wolfishly around the official shambles known as the White House. Their presence at that mansion is occasionally relieved by some band of mountebanks, an organ grinder, or perhaps a squad of Japanese rope dancers, under broad yellow placards. These serve as foils to the dry and dirty crowd that loaf around the porticos of the Treasury or the mansion where they can sleep on warm nights without expense, and so be up and dressed right early to begin the attack next morning. Philadelphia alone must have sent at least one thousand persons here in the last month looking after the principal offices in that city. A new set has been sent up for confirmation nearly every day, and as regularly rejected. Then comes another crowd, each with his backers, trainers, bottle-holders, and blowers. Then, in addition to these pursuers of the regular fixed offices, imagine the other hungry crowd, watching for what may chance to turn up, following at the heels of power as the wolves on the Russian steppes are said to follow the sledge of the adventurous traveller in the hungry winter day. Let but the smallest scrap fall or be thrown over, and instantly in a pile, growling, yelling, snatching and tearing at it, and at each other, you see the whole—a mingled mass of legs and ears and jaws—the successful one emerging at last from the struggle with but dirt and scratches for his pains. GIVE NATURE A LIFT.

People expect too much of Nature. They trifle with their health and their constitutions, and then are surprised that it fails them.

The pressure of constant mental or bodily labor, upon the animal powers is tremendous. Very few systems and constitutions can bear up against this pressure unassisted. And to this too unhealthy influences which lurk unseen in the air we breathe, the water we drink, the landscape around us, this season by the change from the rigor of Winter to the warmth of Spring, and it would seem to require almost superhuman vigor to keep in perfect health without reinforcing the physical energies.

But how reinforce them? Certainly not with adulterated stimulants. There is no poison in the outer air, or in the atmosphere of furnaced rooms, or work-shops, or factories, so pernicious as those deadly-burning fluids. Why use them, when HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a vegetable tonic without alloy, are everywhere obtainable? Nothing has ever been offered to the fever and debility-stricken invalid in its nature, so powerful in its invigorating effects, as this celebrated

FINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all destillated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their lost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidneys of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of ANDERSON, published in the Times agency.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prized in pulmonary affections, and other diseases of the urinary passages in fees and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual occupations, is of a land of sickening, produces a bracing, healthy tone of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle, six for $5. Ask for POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. For sale by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at DR. KEYSER'S Great Medicine store, 140 Wood street.

Sealed Proposals will be received at this office until 1 o'clock on FRIDAY, the 3d day of May, 1867, for the necessary iron work for an iron coffer-dam, for the foundations of the Light-house, at Stannard Rock, Lake Superior, State of Mackinaw, Michigan. Plans and specifications for this work can be obtained on application to this office, or to Gen. W. F. Smith, Superintending Engineer at Oak Park, Cook county, Illinois.

This iron work will be required to be delivered on or before the 20th of June, 1867, on board of a vessel either at Cleveland, O., Detroit, Michigan, or Chicago, Ill., at the option of the bidder, but the place of delivery must be stated in the bid.

The iron work will amount to about 150,000 pounds, of which about 100,000 will be boiler work, and the residue will be cast iron and tension rods, bolts, &c.

The Board reserve the right to reject any proposal, or to refuse to receive any part of the work which may not be in strict conformity with the contract and specifications, and no amount will be considered bidding until approved by the Division Engineer, and no compensation will be received for work executed from time to time by manufacturers, and each offer must be accompanied by a written guarantee, signed by the bidder and competent sureties, that in the event of the acceptance of such bid the necessary contract will be entered into.

Bond and security for the faithful fulfillment of the contract will be required.

The sum for which the bidder proposes to furnish the iron work, according to the drawings and specifications, must be distinctly stated, and a copy of the printed specifications inclosed with the bid as evidence that there is no mistake as to the object of his proposal.

All proposals must be sealed and endorsed "Proposals for Iron Work for Wangoshance Light-house," and then enclosed in another envelope and addressed to the Chairman of the Light-house Board, Washington, D. C.

No bid will be considered that does not conform to the requirements of this advertisement.

TUESDAY, APRIL 23, 1867.

DECEASED PENNSYLVANIANS IN THE NATIONAL CEMETERY AT NASHVILLE.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

NASHVILLE, TENN., April 17, 1867.

Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette.—As a Pennsylvanian, I take pleasure in enclosing herewith a copy of the record to date, of deceased Pennsylvania soldiers who were buried in the vicinity of Nashville, Tennessee, during the war, together with the numbers designating the respective localities assigned those that have thus far been exhumed and their sacred ashes deposited in the Nashville National Cemetery, dedicated to the great national design of honoring the well merited distinction won by those who slumber within its quiet and beautiful enclosure, who, by their combined efforts, have preserved and guaranteed to us upon the broad and enduring basis, constituted by the Declaration of Independence, a nrmer rock upon which to found our nationality and upon which to successfully place our efforts of perpetuating its existence and future progress, and may these white dotted cemeteries that now grace our Southern States ever serve to remind the enemies of our Government that the spirits that once animated the fallen heroes is inherent and will ever actuate the true friends of American Liberty. The Nashville National Cemetery is located six miles north east of the city, on the Louisville and Nashville railroad, and as there is an excellent macadamized pike leading to it from the city, will afford a very pleasant drive.

The Cemetery is beautifully situated, the enclosure containing sixty-four acres of fine undulating ground, most of which is ornamented with towering forest trees, and is being laid off in various ways to suit the occasion; the whole presenting a very picturesque appearance; the grounds being divided by beautiful serpentine (macademized) avenues which, when completed, will afford a very pleasant drive of three and a-half miles. The attractions of this burial ground, together with the memorable associations of the vicinity, will make it quite a pleasant resort for all those who may feel an interest in visiting the last resting place of friends and relatives.

The work of concentrating and depositing the disinterments is fast bordering on completion, but the consummation of the work of filling up as contemplated will require some months.

This Cemetery and that of Stone River is under the direction of Chaplain William Crinshaw, United States Army, formerly of Pennsylvania.

Very Respectfully,

W. H. SLOAN,
Clerk National Cemetery.

The above, with a few abbreviations, is a correct copy transcribed from head boards. The numbers given here are the running numbers of the National Cemetery, and the Index to our record. All letters for information should contain their number.

11757 and 11759 were exhumed on Judge Humphrey's farm, some two miles southeast from the city. The only location on the head boards was that above given.

I will compare your promulgated lists and make any corrections that may be necessary, and endeavor to keep you advised concerning future developments.

Decidedly Romantic.

The following singular and rather romantic incident was related to the New Albany Ledger by a gentleman who claims to know that it is true:

A young lady living in Corydon who had, by a life of dissipation and prostitution, lost the respect of the decent portion of that community, and who it was also believed, had given birth to a negro child, after finding herself an outcast and abandoned woman, resolved to leave the place where she was shunned and despised, and lead in the future a life of rectitude and of virtue. She removed to Ohio. For a long time nothing was heard from her. But, finally, an Ohio paper was received in Corydon, announcing the marriage of this young lady to the Hon. Mr. ——. The paper complimented the happy bridegroom upon his good fortune in securing such an accomplished and handsome wife as Miss ——. For a while this marriage was the subject of much gossip in Harrison county. In a few months, however, it ceased to excite any interest, and would have been forgotten entirely, had it not been for a visit of the Mrs. —— to Corydon. Husband and wife took the stage for Corydon at New Albany, and seemed to enjoy themselves very much in each other's society during the ride. At Corydon the stage stopped at the hotel, and they got out, the husband requesting a nice room. The landlord, who recognized in the wife the abandoned woman of Corydon in other days, refused to give them a room. Husband demanded an explanation, and the blunt old landlord gave it to him by relating a history of his wife's career in Corydon. After this the husband was not anxious for a room, but took the next conveyance out of Corydon, leaving the village and the wife behind. Since then he has not been heard of in Corydon. The wife, finding herself abandoned by her husband, again gave way to the tempter, and is now a heart broken, degraded woman.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, April 22, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 138½; Eighty-one bonds, 109½; Five Twenties, 1862, 109½; do, 1864, 108½; do, 1865, 108¼; Consols, 93; 10-40's, 76¾; Ten Forties, 94½; Seven Thirties, 106¼; 2d issue, 105¾; 3d issue, 105½; Michigan Southern Railroad, 65½; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 68½; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 92; Chicago and Northwestern, common, 31; do preferred, 38½; New York Central, 87¾; Reading, 100¼; Erie, 30¾.

Government securities were not quite so firm to-day as on Saturday, there is, however, more disposition to buy than to sell. Gold opened lower to-day at 137¾, but at noon advanced to 138⅝. Railroad shares are firm, with but little doing though stocks are low, there is no disposition among capitalists to buy for investment, and every little rise and fall is taken advantage of by the brokers. Dealings in our local securities are very limited, and the few sales of bank stock changing hands on the weekly auction sales comprises the largest part of the transactions in these securities.

The following statement exhibits the business of the Pittsburgh Clearing House for the week closing on Saturday, April 20th:

—Seven-Thirty Treasury notes are convertible into Five Twenty bonds at maturity, and not after wards. The secretary of the Treasury, by giving notice that conversions may be made before maturity, has taken away any excuse for claiming a conversion after the notes mature. The law under which the Seven Thirties were issued left the Secretary at liberty to bargain with the takers of the notes. On this point the act of June 30, 1864, provides that

Any treasury notes issued under the authority of this act may be made convertible, at the discretion of the Secretary, into any bonds issued under the authority of this act.

By virtue of this discretionary power, the Secretary issued the Seven Thirty notes with the following condition and bargain, plainly printed on the back of the notes.:

At maturity convertible, at the option of the holder, into bonds redeemable at the pleasure of the government at any time after five years, and payable twenty years from the 15th of August, 1865, with interest at six per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, in coin.

This is on the August notes (1st series). The same is on the back of the 2d and 3d series, with the time changed to June 15 and July 15, 1865. It is plain that on the very next day after the Seven Thirties mature the holder loses the right of conversion, and it is now quite evident that the government will pay the notes, not timely presented, in money.

—The New York Times, of Saturday, alluding the little "flurry in the gold market on Friday says:

The German bonses had warlike advices from Berlin and Frankfort. Many of them profess to believe in an early renewal between Prussia and France. The French and English firms, on the other hand, doubt the imminence of war. The telegrams today however, give another turn to affairs in Paris Bourse. The Germans here, many of them at least, are speculating for a decided Five Pr. gold. They talk down to 5-20s in payment, while admitting that after the Continent is fairly in war, American credits will feel increased favor in Europe. The

—The Chicago Tribune, of Saturday, reports money matters in that city, as follows:

The money market presented no features different from those presented yesterday. Business was generally quiet, and the demand for discounts moderate, though in some quarters it was reported rather more active. Paper is examined with more than ordinary scrutiny, and none but the best signatures backed by unstained collaterals find any favor. The banks are pursuing a conservative policy, and speculative borrowers find their quiet closemany being obliged to seek the street. Rates of interest are unchanged.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, April 22, 1867.

The produce markets were remarkably dull to-day, notwithstanding the weather was fine, and all that could have been desired for the transaction of out-door business. The impression now seems to prevail that values, especially for Flour and Grain, have reached the very "top," and as a reaction is thought to be near at hand, buyers are operating very sparingly, and this, as a matter of course, has a tendency to restrict transactions.

GRAIN—Corn is steady, with sales of prime yellow reported at $1.05. No movement in Wheat, and little or none in this market. Rye is in request at $1.50, and would command more money readily, and a little dull, though without quotable change. Barley is quoted at $1.05 to $1.10 per bushel.

FLOUR—Is steady but dull and unchanged. We continue to quote at $13.75 to $14.75 good to choice spring Wheat; $15 to $16 for Winter Wheat and $16 to $19 for fancy St. Louis brands. Rye Flour, in store, $9.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is steady and unchanged at 9½c to 10c for Shoulders; 11¾ to 12c for Ribbed Sides; 12½c to 13c for Clear Sides; 14c for Plain Hams; 15½c to 15¾c for Sugar Cured; and 16¼ to 16¾c for Canvassed Hams. Dried Beef, 22. Lard, 13 to 13¾, and Mess Pork, $23 to $23.50.

SEEDS—Cloverseed is dull and drooping; we now quote at $12 to $12.50. Timothy seed is quoted at $5 and $5.50, and Flaxseed is in demand, at same figure, $3.

BUTTER—Is plenty and dull, and prime fresh Roll is selling at 30c packed. Butter seems to be somewhat unsalable at any price.

POTATOES—The supply is fully up to the demand, and prices are unchanged. Peach Blows bring from $1.75@2.00, on track—small sales in store, 90c to $1.

GREEN APPLES—In better supply and dull, with a drooping tendency. We now quote at $4.50 to $5 per bbl for good to prime.

EGGS—The market is completely glutted, and quotations may be called nominal at 15@16c. Almost every produce house in town is full to overflowing.

DRIED FRUIT—Is dull but unchanged—small sales at 8 to 9c for Apples, and 14c to 18c for Peaches—a round lot could be purchased at a reduction of from 1 to 2 cents on Peaches.

HAY—Is quiet and unchanged. Prime Timothy may be quoted at $22 to $23 per ton, on track, and fair, at $20 to $21.

OIL—Lard Oil is firm but unchanged—90c for No. 2, and $1,10 for No. 1.

MILL FEED—Sale on wharf of 300 bags Middlings at $2.35 per cwt.

Toledo Market.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, April 22, 1867.

CRUDE—The market was rather quiet and dull to-day, the demand being less active, while so far as prices are concerned, there has been no change. Two of the sales below noted, were consummated on Saturday evening. 1600 at 6¾; 1700 at 6¾; and 2000 at 6¾—all for immediate delivery. Quotations may be fairly given at 6¾ on spot, and ? for May, and from all that we can learn, oil is offering pretty freely at these figures. The eastern advices continue unfavorable, which is in consequence of the depression in Europe, and, upon the whole, the oil trade is not in as healthy a condition as it might be. We have no late advices from Oil City.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil is quiet and unchanged. We can report sales of 300 bbls for June, 500 for July and 300 for August, at 25, and 500 for September, 500 for October and 500 for November, at 25—all standard white, delivered in New York—ears here; also, 1000 bbls standard white, on spot, at 21¾, and 500 prime light straw to white, at 20¾, delivered in Philadelphia. Free oil is quiet and unchanged—small sales at 41@42.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to fall slowly at this point with scant nine feet in the channel by the Allegheny marks last evening. The weather yesterday was cloudy and stormy, with occasional showers of rain.

The Ida Rees, from Cincinnati, is the only arrival we have to report. She had a very good freight list, including a considerable amount of cotton. The Argosy is due here from Cincinnati this morning, and will return as usual on Wednesday at noon. There were no departures aside from the regular packets.

Business was remarkably dull at the levee yesterday, the offerings of freight for all points being light, and steamboatmen generally looked decidedly blue. The Forest City left for Steubenville on Sunday in charge of her new owners.

The Columbia, Captain Reed, will positively leave for the Upper Mississippi on Wednesday, as will also the America, Capt. Golding, for New Orleans. These are both good boats, and they will both have good trips.

The Importer, Capt. Noss, is filling up rapidly, and will leave to-morrow without fail for St. Louis.

The Ida Rees, in charge of Captain T. H. Williams, is about to enter the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati packet trade, in connection with the Argosy, leaving here every Saturday. She has recently been thoroughly overhauled and repaired, and being very fast, will be able to make weekly trips without much difficulty. She will leave on Saturday next on her first trip.

The Urtida and Ida Rees No. 3 got in from City during the night and left this morning for Cincinnati.

The Louisville Courier, of Saturday, says: The tow of Lake Erie No. 3, or rather two flats belonging to her tow, were taken through the canal yesterday. Her barges were sent over the falls. The Mary Davidge came in yesterday from St. Louis, with a heavy tow of iron ore for Cincinnati. The towboat Stella was having her rudder repaired, preparatory to starting South with a heavy tow of coal.

Says the Cincinnati Commercial, of Sunday: The Antelope passed up yesterday from St. Louis, with a tow of five barges containing 1600 tons of iron ore and sundries. She discharged 150 tons of iron here, and 100 at Portsmouth, 500 at Steubenville, and 250 tons of iron and 70 tons of fire clay and lead pipe at Pittsburgh.

Says the St. Louis Democrat, of Friday: The Nymph No. 2, which left a few days since for Benton, is reported at the mouth of the Osage on account of high water, the current of the Missouri being too strong for her to stem. The Grand Jury question is still the theme of general conversation, and crows of people are availing themselves of the present fair weather by visiting the steamer as she lies at the Bloody Island. Capt. Donaldson will bring the boat up to the city wharf on Sunday to land for New Orleans. The Cache, Capt. Brady, leaves on Sunday for Fort Benton, and will be followed on Tuesday by the Bella, Capt. H. S. Hazlett.

The Amazon left New Orleans for Cincinnati on the 11th inst., with three thousand sacks of coffee and 150 tons of other freight. This is the largest shipment of coffee from New Orleans, in one lot, since the rebellion.

A correspondent writing from Madison, says: On the river there is very little competition and low tariffs. The Louisville and Cincinnati mailboat line run the Generals Lytle and Buell, the Anderson and United States. The Madison and Louisville packets Diamond and Blue Wing, make daily trips to Cincinnati; also, the steamers Moderator and Jacob Strader, several local boats Dumond and Blue Wing, make daily trips to Cincinnati; also, the steamers Moderator and Jacob Strader, several local boats run to Jeffersonville. In ten days a new passenger packet, the America, will enter the Louisville and Cincinnati trade.

A Lexington, Missouri, telegram, of the 17th, says: The Lecture No. 2 ard Guidon passed up yesterday afternoon, and the Octavia and Ada last night. The Lecture left Wakkenda prairie, and the river still rising.

The St. Paul Press, of the 17th, says: The river remains in the same condition that it has been for the past few days, with plenty of water. The G. H. Gray arrived yesterday, and will leave this morning for the head of the lake. The Chippewa Falls went up the river.

The Wild Missouri, the Des Moines, and other Northwestern streams, are at flood hight, and overflowing their banks in all directions.

At Kansas City the Missouri was higher than it has been since the great flood of 1844, the bulk of the rise being from the Platte river.

A St. Louis telegram, under date of Saturday, says: River rising again; weather warm. The rivers are reported declining in the interior. Neither of the regular steamers are announced to leave today, including Nightingale for Cincinnati, Kilgour and Julia for Memphis, and three for the Tennessee, and three for the Mountains. If not sold at private sale before the 1st of May, the Atlanta, Mary E. Forsyth and Ida Reed will be sold by the U. S. marshal at auction. It is believed that the Mountaineer was so badly damaged by her recent collision with the Ida Reed that she will be compelled to abandon her trip to the mountains and return to this city.

The Herald, of the 16th, says of the Richmond: The Richmond in its inside view does not present the commanding appearance of the Great Republic, her cabin being somewhat low and her bedrooms, as a consequence, less than double the size of ordinary staterooms.

The Louisville Democrat, of Saturday, says: The America-locked-stern-down-stream-back-action-1-cylinder-escapement-tubular-boilered-one-horse-no-account-safety-valve-was decided the best in the business," by the "oilque," at the commission held in New York, recently. It is just as we expected—"Cut and dried." Look out, steamboatmen.
